

I've been reading that you are considering loosening the rules prohibiting one company from owning too many media outlets in the big media markets. Please don't do that. My feeling is that we need more media sources rather than less.